

PacePals.com

PacePals is a one stop shop for you to find speedrunners that are running the games in real time and see what their pace is compared to the world record

Pace Pals is the place to go for anyone that is looking for gamers that play games fast. With a full game library, and a list of active streamers, anyone can find a speed runner for the game they want. Each page will have the list of streamers, sorted by their personal best, as well as how close they are to the world record. You can follow a game, as well as individual players, and the website will notify you if they are close to beating their record, or the world record.
